R&M's Knox and Frutiger pass professional engineering exam

R&M CONSULTANTS, INC. (R&M) is pleased to announce that two members of our Civil Engineering Department recently passed the Principles & Practice of Engineering exam.

Marc Frutiger, P.E. joined R&M's Civil Engineering Department in 2004. He holds a B.S. in Civil Engineering from the South Dakota School of Mines. As a valued member of R&M's civil engineering team, Marc has been involved in a variety of civil projects, including the design of extensive improvements at the Bethel, Nome and Fairbanks Airports, and work on the Lake Hood and ANC General Aviation Master Plan. He is currently working on the Kotzebue Shore Avenue project.

Nicole Knox, P.E. joined R&M's Civil Engineering Department in 2005. She holds a B.S. in Civil Engineering from the University of Alaska Anchorage. Since becoming part of R&M's civil engineering team, she has played significant roles in projects such as the C Street Extension, Tuluksak Airport Relocation, FedEx A-380 Gates and Facilities, UPS Aircraft Maintenance Facility and a shopping center renovation on Fort Wainwright.

Founded in Alaska in 1969, R&M offers engineering, surveying and mapping, earth sciences and construction services, which includes construction administration, materials testing and special inspection.
